

Lead Preschool Teacher- Cairn Hill Nature Preschool – Exciting Opportunity

We are seeking a dynamic, nurturing, energetic educator with a pioneering spirit and enthusiasm for bringing Waldorf/Nature education to families in and around Lynn, Massachusetts, a multi-ethnic community 15 miles north of Boston.

Cairn Hill's mission is to bring the transformative power of the arts to young learners in urban and multi-ethnic communities using story, music, nature and the hands-on approach inspired by Waldorf education. Our nature preschool will provide preschoolers aged 2.9 years-5 years with a high quality preschool experience incorporating inquiry-based, outdoor learning with explicit instruction in literacy, math and science. Our approach features storytelling, science and nutrition awareness through gardening and nature walks and daily exposure to arts and music.

Position commences in July 2018; part and full time positions available
Salary competitive, commensurate with experience

Qualifications:

- 3-5 years preschool teaching experience
- Bachelor's degree preferred, but not required. Would expect candidate to take advantage of free courses offered through local R3P grant to obtain Associate or Bachelor's degree in ECE.
- Training in Waldorf Early Childhood education +/-or Environmental education preferred
- MA DEEC Teacher Certification (or qualifications and willingness to advance toward certification)
- Experience working with dual language learners(DLLs)
- Willingness to work outdoors in all weather
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Computer literacy (Word, Excel, Social Media, Blogging, etc.)
- Openness to networking and communicating with a progressive educational community with the goal of fusing public educational standards and innovative curricular methods, including measuring the success and sharing outcomes of the educational experience.

While an ideal candidate will have experience in Waldorf early childhood, Environmental education and teaching DLLs, we invite candidates with a strong background in any of these fields to apply and will supplement with professional development opportunities.
